How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money. One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Empire Life Investments Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as low.

This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What are the Risks of Investing in the Fund?" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the money you invest.

How has the Fund performed?

This section tells you how series I units of the Fund have performed over the past 4 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the series' returns.

Year-by-year returns

This chart shows how series I units of the Fund performed in each of the past 4 years. The Fund did not drop in value in any of the 4 years. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the Fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the Fund will perform in the future.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This table shows the best and worst returns for series I units of the Fund in a 3-month period over the past 4 years. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

	Return	3 months ending	If you invested $1,000 at the beginning of the period
Best return	0.4%	December 31, 2013	Your investment would rise to $1,004
Worst return	0.2%	October 31, 2016	Your investment would rise to $1,002

Average return

A person who invested $1,000 in series I units of the Fund on the inception date now has $1,062.33. This works out to an annual compound return of 1.2%.

Who is the Fund for?

Investors who:

- Seek a steady source of income with stability of capital;
- Seek to diversity an investment or retirement account with a conservative and liquid investment with minimal risk of a fluctuation in the Fund's net asset value; and
- Are willing to accept a low level of risk

A word about tax

In general, you will have to pay tax on any money you make on a fund including your share of the fund's earnings and on taxable capital gains from redeeming your investment. How much tax you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan and the type of earnings of the fund (e.g. interest, dividends, capital gains, etc.). In general, you do not pay tax on your investments while held in a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, Tax-Free Savings Account or other registered plan. If you hold your investment outside of a registered plan, you will receive a tax slip showing your share of the fund's earnings. You must include the amounts shown in your income whether you receive them in cash or have them reinvested. You must calculate your taxable capital gains from a redemption.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series I units of the Fund. The fees and expenses—including any commissions—can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another.
